Feedback on JT4-0039 (9042)

OOE: 271555 Jun 90

The vessel is involved in some sort of loading operation, done at two different times-- one overt, one covert. The latter is quiet and purposeful, involving metal containers of some sort. The covert loading is not done with a crane; the cargo moves straight across, then is taken down low in the forward part of the vessel (not on deck). It is then slid under or down into place (this seems to involve a vertical downward motion followed by a horizontal motion, then a short vertical downward motion as the cargo (container?) "locks" into place.

A possible callsign associated with the operation is similar to M1NO8. Names associated are OCTA/OKA, RAMON/RAYMOND.

OOF: 271430 Jun 90

There are several activities taking place on this vessel. At least two of the activities deal with moving objects from one location to another. One movement involves wooden objects; another involves sorting through piles of dark objects on deck. These objects are dark brown or black with a rough surface.

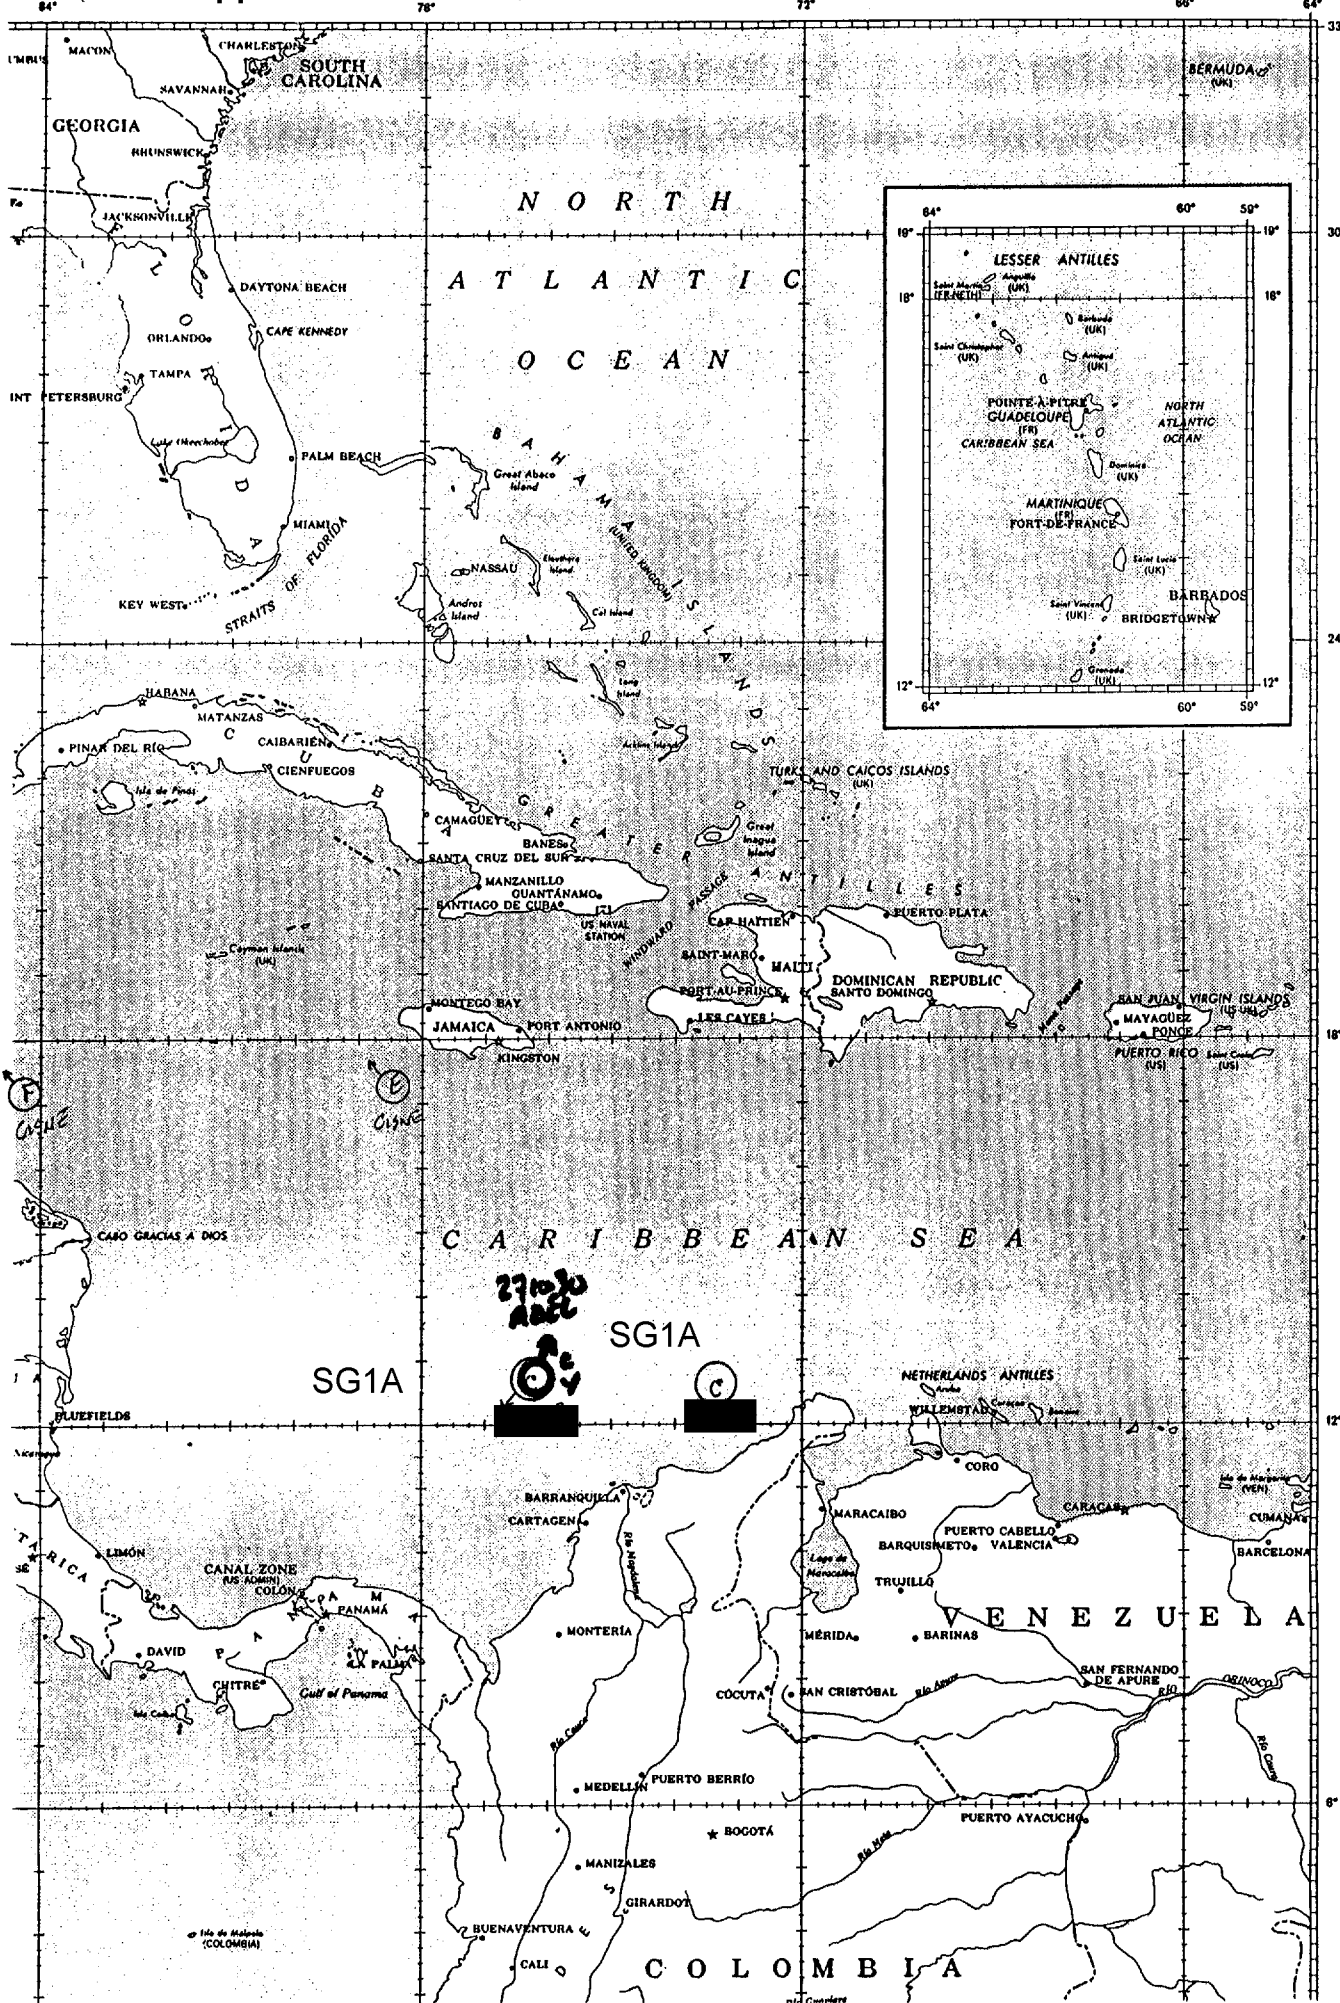

Somewhere on board are objects that are green, tube shaped and pointed; reminiscent of bombs or torpedoes (these seem unimportant to the operation).

There is a room which contains racks. The contents of those racks are potentially dangerous. There is a sense of something explosive in this room. The room containing the racks is locked and guarded. There is extra security or concern with this room. The racks contain wooden boxes similar to weapons crates. The crates are dark green and/or tan with rope attached somehow. They have white or silver lettering and black lines on them.

Elsewhere in this room are large bail-like objects which are brown and covered with some sort of woven material.

There is an individual dressed in white who is watching the sortin activity on deck. He walks left, turns and goes down some stairs. He goes into a hallway and turns in to a small dark room, with a woody smell. He begins looking at a notebook or small book. This book contains pages which have words and numbers written on them. The words are in groups of two. The words include names of colors. The following words were detected: EEL, RAY, DOLPHIN, WHITE, BLUE, GREEN, TANGER, LOVO, JACK KNIFE, _____ YELLOW, MOON.

This individual takes out a card from somewhere; it has squarish holes in it with other words on it. He lays the card over one of the pages in the book. This produces two word groupings, including: BLUE FISH, YELLOW KNIFE, GREEN TRIGGER (see diagram). There is a sense of great sophistication regarding this process.

Summary of Information

There are several activities taking place on the target vessel. At least two deal with moving objects from one location to another. One movement involves wooden objects. Another involves sorting through piles of dark objects on deck. These objects are dark brown or black and with a rough surface.

Some where on board are objects that are green, tube-shaped and pointed. They are reminiscent of bombs or torpedoes but are seen unimportant.

~~There is an individual~~

There is a room which contains rocks.

The contents have a potential danger, or "dangerous", associated with them. There is a sense of something explosive here. This room (containing the rocks) is locked and guarded. There is a sense of extra security / concern here. The racks contain wooden boxes reminiscent of weapons crates. They are dark green &/or tan with rope attached somehow. There is white or silver lettering, and black lines.

Else where in this room are large bail-like objects which are brown and covered w/ some sort of woven material.

There is an individual dressed in white who is watching the <sup>going</sup> activity on deck. He walks to his left, turns & descends down some stairs. He goes into a hallway and turns ~~left~~ into a small room which is dark and has a woody smell. He begins looking at something - a notebook or small book.

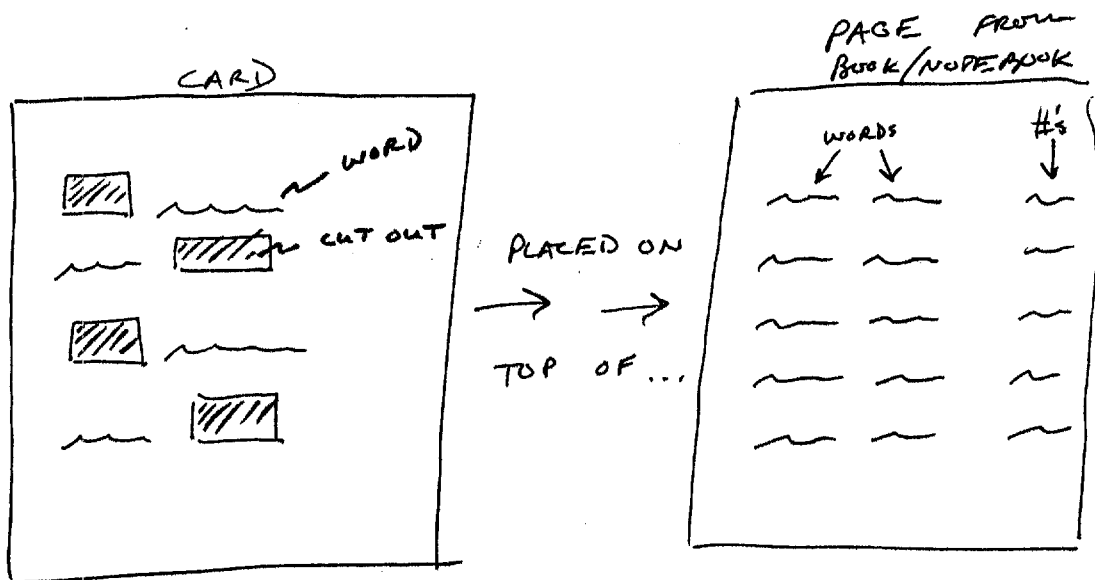

The book/notebook ~~has~~ contains lined pages. There are words and #'s written on them. The words are in groups of two. The names of colors seem to appear in some of them. The following words were perceived from the pages:

EEL
 GREEN
 TANGER
 LLOVO
 JACK KNIFE
 ——— YELLOW
~~BLUE FISH~~
~~YELLOW JACK KNIFE~~
~~GREEN TRIGGER~~

The individual has taken a canl ant from somewhere. It has square holes next to words on it. He lays the card over one of the pages. This produces two word groupings. The following words were perceived:

BLUE FISH
YELLOW KNIFE
GREEN TRIGGER

There is a sense of a great deal of sophistication associated with the above procedure / system.
